General Policies

Lectures

If you choose not to come to class then please do not use office hours as a substitute for not attending lectures. Those that attend regularly and participate in class discussion will be rewarded accordingly when final grades are calculated! Classroom activities will complement, not necessarily duplicate, the text. Furthermore, you are accountable for material covered in class, so you miss class at your own risk!

Exams

No makeup exams are given without prior arrangements or in the case of a documented emergency after the fact. Exam dates are provided at least a week before they occur, and review sessions may occur preceding each exam.

Homework/Labs:

Homework, labs, and assignments will be in the form of; programming projects in class labs, written assignments, etc.

- All written assignments must be in PDF format.
- You have 2 free late days, use them wisely!

- Assignments are due by the required time on the due date. Late assignments WILL NOT be accepted (unless using late days). Do not email me the code, do not post it in Canvas as a comment, just turn your stuff in on time or earlier. You can submit multiple times and we will grade the last submission. In the case of a documented emergency, the instructor reserves the right to accept late work. A doctor's note may not be considered a documented emergency.
- You must submit all files such that your code can be compiled. If your code does not compile because you did not provide the correct/complete files, then you will receive a maximum of 5 points.
- Incomplete submissions/non-compiling code/unreadable PDF files/etc... will not be accepted. Ensure everything is correct before you submit, and all required files are included. You will receive a score of a 0 for incomplete submissions/non-compiling code/unreadable PDF files/etc.
- If the grader/the instructor make a mistake you must discuss the mistake with the instructor immediately.

Final Grade

Your final grade will be calculated based on the percentages described above.

Preparation

You are expected to read material from the assigned coursework that is being discussed in class ahead of time. Examples given in class and by the authors should be confirmed by the student, to guarantee complete understanding of the subject.

Academic Integrity Policy

Students are expected to uphold a code of ethics and professional behavior that promotes the highest standards of integrity, honesty, trustworthiness, and professionalism when exploring cybersecurity-related topics and exercises. Students are required to sign the NCAE-C Student Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct during the first week of class to proceed in the course. Copies are available by emailing cybersecurity@ewu.edu.

Academic Integrity is the cornerstone of the university. Any student who attempts to gain an unfair advantage over other students by violating the Academic Integrity policy may be reported to the university and may receive a sanction up to and including XF for the course, suspension, or expulsion from the university. This policy is on the EWU web site. <https://inside.ewu.edu/policies/knowledge-base/wac-172-90-student-academic-integrity-3/>

Examples of academic dishonesty include misrepresenting others' work as your own, failure to provide proper citations in written text, stealing or destroying material intended for the use of other students, using notes or cell phones during exams, taking photographs of exams, assisting others during exams, copying someone else's work, letting his or her work be copied, and sharing course content without permission.

Cheating Policy

You are allowed to discuss your thoughts with and help other classmates; however, you must do your own work, meaning ALL work should be your own. Plagiarism and cheating WILL NOT BE TOLERATED. Plagiarism includes using someone else's programs or parts of programs as your own; copying another person's work; handing in another person's work for your own. If you work with someone else to understand the content, it is important that each person does the assignment separately. Should any of your work be duplicated from another person or any other source, you will be asked to leave the class and not return. Your final grade will be 0.0. Any infractions will be handled in accordance with the academic integrity policy of Eastern Washington University.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Eastern Washington University is committed to providing support for students with disabilities. If you are a student with physical, learning, emotional, or psychological disabilities needing an accommodation, you are encouraged to stop by Student Accommodation and Support Services (SASS), HAR 019 or call 509-359-6871.

Religious Accommodations

If you would like to request an accommodation for reasons of faith or conscience, please refer to EWU's policy on Holidays and Religious Accommodations available at <https://inside.ewu.edu/policies/>. Accommodations must be requested within the first two weeks of this course using the Holidays and Religious Accommodations Request form available at <https://inside.ewu.edu/student-life/resources/holidays-and-religious-accommodations-request/>.

Equal Opportunity

Eastern Washington University does not discriminate in its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, genetic information, age, marital status, families with children, protected veteran or military status, HIV or hepatitis C, status as a mother breastfeeding her child, or the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability or the use of a trained guide dog or service animal by a person with a disability, as provided for and to the extent required by state and federal laws.

Recording Devices

Any type of electronic recording of class is prohibited without my written permission. This is necessary to protect my intellectual property as well as the privacy of students in the class. Recording private conversations without consent is a crime in Washington State.

Disruptive Conduct

Maintaining a productive and respectful learning environment is essential for the success of all students. This classroom is a place for intellectual inquiry, open dialogue, and a commitment to academic integrity. As such, all members of our community are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that supports these goals.

Disruptive behavior is any conduct that unreasonably interferes with the instructor's ability to teach or other students' ability to learn. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Repeatedly arriving late or leaving early in a way that is disruptive to the class.
- Engaging in private conversations or using electronic devices for non-class activities (e.g., texting, social media, browsing unrelated websites).
- Making offensive, harassing, or threatening remarks.
- Arguing with the instructor or other students in a way that shuts down discussion.

Disruptive conduct violates classroom standards as well as EWU's Student Conduct Code. If a student is disruptive in class, I will take the following steps:

- Initial Disruption: If a student's behavior is disruptive, I will first attempt to address the issue directly with the student, either during or after class. This may involve a private conversation to understand the situation and clarify expectations for classroom conduct.
- Repeated or Escalated Disruption: If the behavior continues or escalates, I may ask the student to leave the classroom for the remainder of the class session. I will also document the incident and may report it to the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities for violation of the Student Conduct Code.
- Serious Threats or Emergencies: Any behavior that poses an immediate threat to the safety of others will be reported to immediately to law enforcement.

Students who engage in disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action under the university's Student Conduct Code in addition to being removed from class.

EWU Title IX Policy

Eastern Washington University recognizes the inherent dignity of all individuals and promotes respect for all people. Sexual misconduct will NOT be tolerated at EWU. If you have been subjected to sexual misconduct, we encourage you to report this matter promptly. As a faculty member, I am interested in promoting a safe and healthy environment, and should I learn of any sexual misconduct I must report the matter to the Title IX Coordinator. Should you want to report to a confidential source you may contact the following:

- Sexual Assault Family Trauma (SAFeT) – 509-624-7273 – 24 hours
- YWCA Domestic Violence Crisis Line – 509-326-2255 – 24 hours
